

Hello All,

I have a project that requires 150 pieces of each piece shown in the image (2 pieces).

These need to be a flexible material (Rubber, Santoprene or equal). I suspect that for such a low volume that Rapid Prototyping is a good option. I need pieces in hand by first week in May THE LATEST.

There is no CAD data to work from trying to get actual samples to use for casting and/or reference.

If anyone thinks that can do this, please email me at tom@magnacad.com

Thanks
Tom
